Thanks very much for your letter of 3 January, which was forwarded to me by Jim Angleton. I greatly appreciate the work to which you have gone to prepare your comments on recruitment of service personnel and intelligence training in service schools. On the former, we are now embarking on a program which will take advantage of many of your suggestions. The latter proposal, as you know, is one more difficult of solution but on which we may be able to accomplish something in the long run.

I am sorry you were unable to get down to Washington, but hope that at some date in the future we will have a chance to get together again.

Sincerely yours,

51- dip via LK 1/19/51.
